Policy and practice to manage student attendance

School rolls are electronically marked twice a day, as per Brisbane Catholic Education requirements. The Principal is advised of all absences and unexplained absences receive a phone call from the school office to enquire about the whereabouts and well being of the child. Parents are advised when they enroll their students at the school that it is school policy that all absences must be notified to staff on the day of absence.

Parents use a sign in/out book when students leave school early or come to school late. Students are given late slips to give to classroom teachers, indicating time of arrival.
